TILLMAN IS BITTER
AGAINST GROVER*SOUTH CAROLINA SENATOR'S SENSATIONAL SPEECH.

Policy of the Administration Condemned in the Severest Terms—Impeachment Proceedings Urged—House Adjourns for Lack of a Quorum—General Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The presentation of committee reports on Cuba and a highly dramatic and sensational speech from Mr. Tillman, the new senator from South Carolina, furnished two stirring events in the senate Wednesday. The majority resolution on Cuba asks the president to urge Spain to grant belligerent rights to the insurgents, while the minority report directs the president to take steps towards securing from Spain the complete independence of Cuba. Both resolutions went to the senate calendar.

Such a torrent of invective has seldom been heard in the senate as that in the speech of Mr. Tillman. Veteran members of the body characterized the speech as one of the most remarkable in the history of the upper branch of congress. It abounded in statements of a sensational character, arraigning President Cleveland, Secretary Carlisle and other men in high places.

He spoke bitterly of the essay reading indulged in by senators. He referred to the statement of the senator from Ohio (Sherman) that the silver question had been thrashed out. "Yes, it has been thrashed out by the speculators, but not by the farmers." There had been no trouble with the gold reserve, the senator asserted, and no hint of any loss of confidence in the national credit until about the time of the late presidential election. Then for the first time we got a glimpse of the conspiracy. Secretary Foster, he said, gave the holders of greenbacks and treasury notes the option of having government paper cashed in gold or silver, and as they all demanded gold, the gold in the treasury rapidly ran down. The financial papers took up the cry of the country going to a silver basis, and the first premonitory breezes of the panic of 1893 swept over the land and the conspirators fomented it by every possible means.

The senator quoted from President Cleveland's response to the committee that notified him of his nomination the last time, and declared that there was nothing in it to warrant one to expect that the leader of the democratic party would ignore the platform and treat with contempt the trusted lieutenants whom the people had sent to the national capital to assist in shaping legislation.

He went on: "In the entire history of this country, the high office of president has never been so prostituted, and never has the appointing power been so abused. Claiming to be the apostle of civil service reform, he has debauched the civil service by making appointments only of those whose sponsors would surrender their manhood, and with bated breath walk with submissive head in his presence. With relentless purpose he has ignored his oath of office to uphold and obey the law, and has paid out gold instead of coin, and issued bonds to buy more gold, by both actions overriding the law and giving no heed to the interests of any but moneyed friends—I might say his owners or partners."

"While to this besotted tyrant coin has come to mean gold alone, he cannot, by his mere 'ipse dixit,' change the law of this land and pervert the plain meaning of the English language. The repeal of the Sherman law, it was asserted—which was the first point of attack of this unholy alliance—was only accomplished through the aid and in conjunction with a majority of the republican senators.

The democratic president accomplished what was impossible for any republican executive under the circumstances to have brought about. A change of the party in power had left a large number of offices in his gift with which to buy votes."

In discussing the "honest meaning" of parity of gold and silver in the Sherman law, he said: "The object was to have them assist each other to hold silver up by holding gold down, and an honest secretary of the treasury, who should have resigned his office rather than submit to the dictation of a besotted chief, would have paid out silver to protect the treasury from the gold gamblers, as the law and his oath of office required."

The senator contended that if there had been one idea more persistently and prominently presented to the American people by President Cleveland than any other, it has been the inequities of the tariff and the demand for its revision. Mr. Tillman argued that when President Cleveland came into power in March, 1889, and could have called the senate and house (both democratic for the first time since the war) to carry his policy into effect, he did not call an extra session to give tariff reform to the people, but instead called congress together to stop the coinage of silver.

The senator continued: "The encroachments of the federal judiciary and the supineness and venality—corruption, I may say—of the representative branches of the government are causes of deep concern to all thinking and patriotic men. We are fast drifting into government by injunction in the interest of monopolies and corporations, and the supreme court, by one corrupt vote, annuls an act of congress looking to the taxation of the rich.

It was easy to see, the senator said in conclusion, that the struggle for the new emancipation had begun. There were millions now on the march, and they tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp sidewalks hunting work and the highways begging bread, and unless relief comes they will some day take a notion to come to Washington with rifles in their hands to regain the liberties stolen from them, or which their representatives have sold.

At one point, after bitterly arraigning the president, the senator addressed himself to the Republican side of the senate, and exclaimed: "Why have you not impeached him? You have the majority to do it."

Mr. Hawley interrupted with the query: "Why did not the last congress do this?"

"He is not impeached," continued the senator, "because he carries out your Republican policy. The last congress was no better than this."

Mr. Jones (Dem., Ark.) asked unanimous consent to fix 2 o'clock today as the time for voting on the silver bond bill.

Mr. Hill objected.

"Will the senator name a day for the vote?" asked Mr. Jones.

"The 6th of February," responded Mr. Hill.

Mr. Jones declined to consider this delay and said he would make the test today.

Mr. Call (Dem., Fla.) then addressed the senate in support of the silver amendment to the bond bill. Mr. Call had not concluded when, at 4:25 p. m., the senate adjourned until today.

Agricultural Department Bill.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The house committee on agriculture has finished the bill making appropriations for the support of the agricultural department for the fiscal year 1897. The total amount is $3,158,329, as against $3,303,750 appropriated for the present fiscal year. The $130,000 carried by last year's bill for the purchase and distribution of valuable seeds, but which was unexpended by Secretary Morton, is again appropriated.

The insurgents have plundered the stores in the village Cidra, and have attacked Guiera Macurijes, south of Sabanilla. The garrison, however, repulsed the enemy, whose attack was twice renewed. The insurgents suffered severe loss, retreated five miles, and then reconcentrated their forces.

IF GOMEZ BE DEAD REBELS WILL FAIL*ALARMING RUMORS IN CIRCULATION AT HAVANA.

Report That the Insurgent Commander Has Passed Away—News Is Not Credited—Spanish Troops Win Many Small Skirmishes About the Island.

Havana, Jan. 30.—There is a rumor here that Maximo Gomez has died as a result of his illness. The friends of the insurgents place no credence in the rumor, and there is no confirmation of the report. It probably owes its origin to the fact that the insurgents tried to buy a coffin at San Antonio de los Banos and the conclusion that it was intended for the burial of the leader of the Cuban insurrection has been jumped at.

Yesterday the column commanded by Colonel Vicuna encountered twenty-five insurgents upon the plantation of Europe in Matanzas. They pursued these, who proved to be the vanguard of a large force, and met 800 insurgents northeast of this city, murdered his wife, Delia, yesterday morning and then hanged himself.

When Alice and Dosia, the two daughters, the former aged 10 and the latter 14, came home from school they found their mother lying unconscious on the dining-room floor. She had been beaten about the face and head until she was almost unrecognizable, and her garments were stiff with the blood that had run from a score of wounds. They summoned help, but the mother did not regain consciousness and died at 7 o'clock.

Colonel Vicuna has stationed his forces in Rabes, which commands the only pass to the province of Havana and the westward. The insurgents are striving to effect a passage to join Gomez and Maceo, but have not succeeded in doing so.

The German frigate Gneizehau has arrived here.

General Marin and Colonel Inclan, the mayor, and the chief of staff bade farewell today to 500 Havana volunteers who are departing to take part in the campaign.

Mr. Hill objected.

"Will the senator name a day for the vote?" asked Mr. Jones.

"The 6th of February," responded Mr. Hill.

Mr. Jones declined to consider this delay and said he would make the test today.

THE KELLAR TRIAL.

Clara Shanks' Mother, Father, Brothers and Sister on the Stand.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 30.—The crowds at the Keller murder trial yesterday packed the court-room and jammed against the doors. Women were there in force, and many of them stood throughout the day. In addition to the mother of Clara Shanks, the father, three sons and a daughter testified. Several youths testified to spending several hours in Wolf creek pool that Saturday afternoon after the time Clara is supposed to have drowned herself there, according to the theory of the defense, and that they waded all over the pool. James Wilder told of passing the Keller house shortly after Clara left home and seeing three women there, two of whom he did not recognize, and one of whom the state maintains was Clara Shanks, although no one has testified that they saw her there or going there.

Dan Shanks said he loaded his repeating shotgun that Saturday morning, he would not say for the purpose of killing Dan Keller, but because he "thought he would need it." He would not say that he is not sorry now that he did not kill Keller when he shot at him. Lawrence Shanks, 15 years old, told his story well and confounded the cross-examiner.

Sure He Will Get a New Trial.

Danville, Ind., Jan. 30.—Sheriff Bell returned yesterday from Jeffersonville, where he had a lengthy interview with the Rev. William E. Hinshaw. The condemned prisoner takes his confinement philosophically and says he is certain of securing a new trial in the supreme court. He is principal of the prison schools and superintendent of the Sunday school. He is also assistant editor of the prison paper. He says that if he is not acquitted in the courts he does not want a pardon, but will spend the rest of his life in prison.

Prisoners Ill Treated.

Cape Town, South Africa, Jan. 30.—The New York World's correspondent at Pretoria writes that the Reform Union prisoners were set upon in the streets of the Transvaal capital while on their way to the prison there. They were roughly treated and were obliged to run to the jail to escape being torn to pieces.

An American gentleman, apparently John Hays Hammond, was flung down, trampled upon and bruised, amid the yells of the Boers. The aggressors were not arrested.

The St. Paul Still Ashore.

New York, Jan. 30.—The St. Paul was moved twenty feet yesterday, but practically she is no nearer deep water than she was Tuesday. The sand has banked up against the port, or seaward, side, and as each day adds to the mound it will require a strong sea to move it.

To Choose Iowa Delegates March 11.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 30.—The Republican state central committee has decided to hold the state convention for the selection of delegates to the national Republican convention at Des Moines March 11. J. P. Doliver, congressman from the Tenth district, was chosen temporary chairman. There will be one delegate for every 250 votes cast.

Bad Censure Resolution.

Washington, Jan. 30.—There is likely to be a very interesting debate in the house committee on foreign affairs today over the proposition to report a resolution to censure Ambassador Bayard for the two speeches which he made at Edinburgh and Boston, England. It was thought at first that the committee might frame a mild expression of disapproval to which the Democratic members would assent, but the Democrats now are manifesting a disposition to oppose any censure.

Germany Order's Torpedo Destroyers.

London, Jan. 30.—It is reported that Germany has ordered twelve torpedo destroyers from Thornycroft & Co., the shipbuilders. The new vessels are to have a speed of thirty knots an hour.

MURDER AND SUICIDE
DARKENS HIS HOME*HORRIBLE DEED OF AN INDIA FARMER.

John R. Haines Beats His Wife to Death in a Fit of Anger—Children Coming Home From School Find the Body of Their Mother—Father Hangs Himself.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30.—John R. Haines, farmer residing ten miles northeast of this city, murdered his wife, Delia, yesterday morning and then hanged himself.

THEY CAME EARLY AND ROUGHED IT

ROCK COUNTY PIONEERS RE CALL OLD TIMES.

R. J. Richardson, Dr. J. B. Whiting, W. C. Whitford, and Mrs. Lee Beers Tell Stories of the Days When Rock County Was Young—Officers Elected.

Only those who came to Rock County forty-six years ago got a seat at the table in Columbia hall last night.

It seemed like starting for supper rather early, but the game was worth the candle. A jollier lot of people never sat under one roof and from the time they got together until time to say good night they traded stories, cracked jokes, told about the warm January of 1847 and had the best kind of a visit.

The supper could not be attended to properly in less than an hour, and after that President A. P. Lovejoy introduced Captain Pliny Norcross as toastmaster. Captain Norcross had pleasant words to say of the old times and then called on President W. C. Whitford for a response to the toast—"All Honor to the Pioneer Settlers of Rock County Who Established Its First Schools—Public and Private."

In Black Hawk's Day.

The speaker began away back in 1832 when the American soldiers pursued the Indians along the Rock river valley through Black Hawk, and past Mount Zion, where the first church in Rock county was held in a private house that later was removed to Milton. In 1837 the first private school was organized in Beloit and in 1840 there was one organized in Janesville, with the Rev. G. W. Lawrence, teacher. In 1838 a school house was started at Milton, in a double log house with two stories, both on the ground. In 1839 the town was divided into districts. Three of the teachers who taught them are all still living. He alluded to a school at Beloit commenced in 1843, which grew into Beloit college and congratulated Beloit on the adoption of co-education.

A Poem On The Boys and Girls.

"The Old Time Boys and Girls," was the sentiment to which Mrs. Lee Beers responded. Her response was in the form of an original poem which brought in many of those present and was received with laughter and applause.

Dr. J. B. Whiting spoke of "Injuns—1845-1895." The doctor said that he labored under some embarrassment because he felt he had no right to speak to the pioneers. It was true he had been here a third of a century, but he did not come as a pioneer to turn the Indian trail into a highway. He defined his mission, which was a much more peaceful one. After putting his hearers in the best of humor he turned to the Indian question, comparing the red men of 1845, who came and went through Rock county without let or hindrance, with the occasional lazy specimen that strayed along now. The comparison was followed by some facts developed by the doctor's work on the government commission six years ago.

A. A. Jackson is President.

R. J. Richardson gave some "Early Experiences" that brought in many of those about him, and the meeting adjourned.

At the close of the literary portion of the entertainment the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—A. A. Jackson.

Vice President—C. C. Keeler, Be-le-loit.

Secretary—Frank S. Lawrence.

Treasurer—Stanley B. Smith.

Judge John R. Bennett, Dr. O. P. Robinson, W. T. Vankirk and Fenner Kimball, who were down for speeches, were unable to be present by reason of illness.

DAVIS WEIGHS 226 BUT CAN'T ACT
"Alvin Joslin" Was Not An Artistic Success At The Myers Last Night.

While Charles L. Davis, the actor, was taking in the sights of the city yesterday afternoon he dropped into Samuel Henderson's South Main street meat market and stepped on the scale tipping the beam at 226½ pounds. The usual interested on-lookers passed around word that he was "Diamond Davis" and showed disappointment because he was not encrusted with precious gems.

Davis proved a good deal heavier on the scales than on the stage last night. His performance of "Alvin Joslin" was not an artistic success and there wasn't even the brass band of former years to make a diversion. The audience was below the average and did not act particularly well pleased.

G. W. BENEKE MAKING MONEY
His Janesville Trouble Taught Him a Lesson That Was Valuable.

George W. Beneke wrote to The Gazette from Jacksonville, Fla., saying that he is proprietor of a new hotel there, and is making money. After he got out of his Janesville trouble he made up his mind to lead a better life and "keep away from low trash who were the cause of all my trouble."

He made the circuit of races, fairs, etc., in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Louisiana and Georgia. He was in Dallas at the time set for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight and went from there to Jacksonville where he got a chance to open a hotel. He is gaining considerable prominence as a bicyclist and expects to challenge any rider in Wisconsin next fall.

ALL THAT MOVES US IS NOT TO BE SEEN

GEORGE R. WENDLING'S LEC- TURE A NOTABLE ONE.

"Unseen Realities" Proves To Be a Theme on Which Radical Arguments Are Based—A Large Audience Deeply Impressed by His Declarations—Leland Powers Next.

George R. Wendling held and awed an audience that tested the capacity of the Congregational church last night. He spoke on "Unseen Realities" and outlined in a masterly way the place that sentiment, feeling and spirituality have in practical life.

He took for the text of his lecture the oft repeated words of Shakespeare, "There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than have been dreamed of in thy philosophy."

It was a fitting introduction to a lecture which dealt with the invisible agencies and mysterious forces which enter into our every day lives. Materialism, he admitted to be, the most powerful message of the nineteenth century, but declared that the world was turning away dissatisfied.

"It is standing on the threshold of a new century," he said, "and it will hear and heed a higher message. I am here to tell you that over against the material lie the spiritual, that the most potent forces come from unseen sources and that civilization is the result of unseen realities. The parblind criticism of the skeptic that science and religion conflict has no foundation in reality. The lesson of science is not materialism but faith in the great unseen."

Mr. Wendling's address produced a deep impression. It was the last lecture on the People's Lecture Course the next and final attraction for this year being the entertainment by Leland Powers, the impersonator, February 12.

A NATURAL LIFE BELT.

Air Injected Under the Skin Will Float a Man.

Dr. Schneider-Preiswerk, in Basle, has discovered a novel means of saving life in marine accidents, which if generally used will probably lessen greatly the number of lives lost by such accidents, says the Philadelphia Record.

His invention has been pronounced very important by the French Academy of Sciences, which in one of their last meetings listened very attentively to a lecture by Dr. Lanveraux upon the new invention. The inventor does away with all artificial belts and other floating appliances; he proposes to inflate the cellular texture beneath the human skin on the breast, which, if filled with air, forms a natural pneumatic belt, by the aid of which one may not only float himself but even support another body. The idea is said to be perfectly practicable. It has been proved that a man weighing 160 pounds, whose specific weight is between 1.08 and 1.10, whose head may weigh seven pounds, needs only about 200 cubic inches of air within his body in order to float with the head out of the water. This amount of air is easily inserted into this hollow space beneath the skin with Dr. Schneider's aseptic syringes, which will in one injection inflate from twenty to thirty-five cubic inches of air. The introduction of the point, which is only two millimeters thick, will hardly be felt. Such a pump is not even necessary. It is much simpler to use a little apparatus, also patented by Dr. Schneider, which consists of a hollow needle, a thin rubber hose eighteen inches long, into which this needle is inserted. A little aseptic cotton placed into the open end of the rubber hose is all that is necessary. The skin is simply raised, the hollow needle introduced into it, and then the other end of the rubber hose is taken into the mouth and the man's own breath blown into it. Two deep respirations, which are blown into each side of the breast, will be sufficient to float a man, however heavy.

Good Looks Women's Strongest Attraction.

How To Have a Clear and Brilliant Complexion.

Here Is the Secret of How To Look Your Best.

Women, since the beginning time, have ruled by their beauty. It is at once their pride and power. By the fascination of their beauty they attract and conquer. It is therefore a woman's first thought, ay, her first duty, to establish and maintain her beauty in its highest perfection.

All women are by nature beautiful. Beauty does not consist of regular features. Many of the most noted beautiful women of the world's history had decidedly irregular features. Beauty means a true presence, and attraction is commanded by clearness of skin, pureness of color, brilliancy of complexion, vivacity of expression, sparkling eyes and rosy lips.

All these attributes of beauty must come from within the system. No external application, no face powders, washes or preparations can give anything but an artificial look. Beauty must first of all be natural; it must glow in the skin from within.

The reader's first thought is, how can I improve and maintain my beauty?

Easily enough. First and foremost, you must have good health. By health is not meant that you feel fairly well, you must get your nerves strong and vigorous, for nothing marks and lines the face like the worry of weak nerves; you must get your blood enriched and pure; for it is the blood which gives that natural glow to face and lips which no art can imitate. You must keep stomach, liver, kidney and bowels in natural activity, for the sluggish action of these organs cause the skin to become dark, sallow, bilious and clogged with impurities and humors.

To do all these things, to keep the system in perfect condition, use the greatest of modern discoveries, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It will not only give you perfect health, but the beauty which you so ardently desire. It will make your skin pure, clear and fair, your features full and plump, give you a brilliant complexion with rich, red lips, and put the glow of health and color into your cheeks.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, read these few of the vast number of enthusiastic testimonies received from grateful women who know from their personal experience the wonderful effects of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy on their complexions. Then follow their advice and example and you will be pleased as you are surprised at the improvement in your looks.

Mrs. Mary Frances Lytle, of 2 Hunter Alley, Rochester, N. Y., says:

"I was very pale and delicate—had no color. I took Dr. Greene's blood and nerve remedy and now I am well and strong, my face is plump and my complexion pure."

Miss Alice Hopkins, of 932 So. Thirteenth street, Philadelphia Pa. says: "There was an entire loss of healthy color in my face. After taking Dr. Greene's Nervura my system was toned up, the natural color returned and the effect on my complexion was most satisfactory."

Mrs. Wm. Bartels, 238 East 87th street, New York City, says:

"Dr. Greene's Nervura made a wonderful improvement in my health and that dark sallow look left my face. My friends hardly knew me. I have gained in flesh and am like a different person."

Mrs. C. S. Allen, of 128 Pearl St., Portland, Maine, says:

"There was hardly any more color in my face and hands than in chalk. Dr. Greene's Nervura made me well and restored my natural color and complexion."

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, of 236 Hartwell's Ave., Providence, R. I., says:

"My face broke out with pimples and I was almost giving up in despair when I got Dr. Greene's Nervura. Now I am well and strong, thanks to this wonderful remedy."

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless and is the discovery and prescription of the successful physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Cripple Creek, Colorado, is now attracting attention in all parts of the world, on account of the marvelous discoveries of gold which have been made in that vicinity. The Northwestern line, with its unrivaled equipment of solid vestibuled trains of palace sleeping cars, dining cars, and free reclining chair cars, daily between Chicago and Colorado, offers the best of facilities for reaching Cripple Creek. One minute Cough Cure is rightly named. It affords instant relief from suffering when afflicted with a severe cough or cold. It acts on the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs and never fails to give immediate relief. C. D. Stevens.

CAUTION

Exhibition of Superb Horsemanship Given by Two Cavalry Troops.

A hundred or more persons went over to Fort Myer to witness the first exhibition drill of the season by the two crack troops of the Sixth United States cavalry, says the Washington Post. The exhibition was given in the large riding hall, where all were out of the biting wind that swept down the parade. There is probably no other set of officers and men in the army who can give such a display of horsemanship as troops G and A of the Sixth. The drill given by them tends more to show what a high degree of efficiency men and horses can be trained than to display knowledge of cavalry movements. At the bottom of the whole drill is the one aim of every true cavalry officer to make his men so familiar with the cavalry horses that they can do almost anything with them. The officers argue that a cavalryman must be able to ride a horse under any and all conditions, know how to fall off without being injured, ride without stirrups or saddle, and also standing in the stirrups and have full use of the arms for fighting.

While every troop in the army has to undergo what the soldiers call "bull ring" drill, there is none that has so fully developed the idea as these two troops at Fort Myer. This is in a great measure due to the untiring efforts of the officers—among them Lieutenant Short, who is an acknowledged premier in the saddle—and the esprit du corps of the men, which in G and A exists to a remarkable degree. The men in these troops always try to outdo each other. Yesterday troop G was the first to come out, under command of Captain West, assisted by First Lieutenant Gallagher and Second Lieutenant Stout. The men gave an excellent exhibition of fancy riding. Cossack riding was the first given, and in this the men, with stirrups crossed, stood up and rode about the hall in a fearless manner. They rode even better than the Cossacks who were with Buffalo Bill's show. To show the training of the horses, they made passages, side movements with ease and other difficult feats to teach a horse. Other movements given by the troop were loudly applauded.

Troop A, Captain Kendall, Lieutenants Short and White, closed the drill. After going through similar movements the men gave a very interesting exhibition of hurdle jumping and using horses for hurdles. In the latter some of the horses were a little ill-tempered, but were quickly subdued. The most serviceable thing of the whole exhibition was the use of horses for breastworks. The horses are taught to lie down, by the use of straps, coming from the right ankle of the foreleg over the shoulder, while the left leg is off the ground and hobbled. The soldier pulls on the shoulder straps, shoves against the left shoulder, and down goes the horse. After a time the only thing necessary is to pick up the left front leg and shove at the shoulder, while some of the more intelligent animals need only a shove. The use of horses for breastworks has long been in vogue on the plains during Indian fights, but the horses had first to be shot. The training of recent years has done away with this necessity. Since last season the men and horses of Fort Myer have greatly improved and give a much finer exhibition. They do more feats in fancy riding, and a great many more men have developed sufficient skill to accomplish those which only a few did last year.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Once Believed to Be the Only Cure for Piles and Rectal Diseases.

A Better Way Now Discovered, Which Cures Every Form of Piles Without Pain or Inconvenience.

Many people suffer the pain, annoyance and often serious results from piles for years, and after trying the many lotions, salves, ointments and so called cures without cure or relief, give up the hope of a final cure, rather than submit to the intense pain and danger to life which a surgical operation involves.

Happily all this suffering is no longer necessary, since the discovery of the Pyramid Pile Cure; a remedy which is approved by the medical profession, as being absolutely safe, free from any trace of opiums, narcotic or mineral poisons and which may be depended upon as a certain cure (not merely relief) in any form of Piles, whether Itching, blind, bleeding or protruding. Some of the hundreds of cures recently made are little short of marvels, as a perusal of the following will demonstrate.

Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio, says: I wish to add to the number of certificates to us the benefits derived from the Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffered from Piles for forty years and from Itching Piles for twenty years, and two boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure has effectively cured me.

Dr. J. W. Migan, Leonardville, Kan., writes: I have used a box of Pyramid Pile Cure and received more benefit and relief than from any remedy I had used in the past twenty-two years.

James Emerson, Dubuque, Iowa, says: I suffered from Piles for six years; have just used the Pyramid Pile Cure and am a well man.

Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: Have been a sufferer from the pain and annoyance of Piles for fifteen years, the Pyramid Pile Cure and Pyramid Pills gave me immediate relief and in a short time a complete cure.

The Pyramid Pile Cure may be found at druggists at 50 cents, and $1.00 per package. A book on cause and cure of Piles will be sent by mail, by addressing the Pyramid Drug Co., Albion, Mich.

THE greatly increased price of cream of tartar, the chief ingredient of a pure baking powder, has induced some manufacturers to substitute burnt alum (which costs but 3 cts. a pound), largely or wholly in lieu thereof, making a very low cost but a very unwholesome baking powder; and great efforts are made to foist these inferior powders upon consumers by the inducement of a lower price and by grossly false representations as to their ingredients and comparative value.

Alum baking powders have been declared by the most competent authorities injurious to health. Therefore every precaution must be taken to keep them out of the house. They masquerade under many names, and new brands are continually appearing.

It is safe to avoid all new brands. Baking powders that are sold either wholesale or retail at a lower price than Royal are almost invariably made from alum, and therefore not only inferior in quality, but positively dangerous to health.

Consumers can be more certainly protected from alum baking powders, and make the wholesomeness of their food doubly sure, by rigidly refusing all substitutes for Royal Baking Powder. The Royal is certified by the Government and State chemists free from alum, absolutely pure, and superlative in leavening power.

It is unwise to take chances by the use of other brands.

Popular Form of Policy.

"Endowment or investment insurance, which is the most popular form of insurance among women, is for the sole benefit of the assured, the face of the policy being payable, if the party survives at the expiration of the time specified, whether it be ten, fifteen or twenty years. Should the assured die prior to the expiration of the time for which the endowment was to run the insurance is paid at once to the beneficiary named in the policy. Premiums must be paid every year during the time for which the endowment runs, provided, of course, the assured lives that length of time. The longer the endowment has to run the lower the rate of premium, and vice versa. The ordinary life policy is payable only on the death of the assured, the premiums being paid each year during the entire life of the policyholder. Rates for this form of insurance are lower than for any other form except term insurance."

The Brier in Kitty's Foot

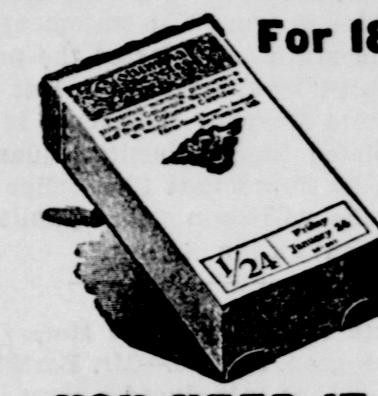

One day Merlin ran away barefooted to the buckberry bushes at the foot of the garden. He came back crying, with an ugly brier in one of his little fat feet. He was a brave little hero and allowed his mamma to pick it out with a needle. A half-hour later he was found examining the claws in his kitty's feet; a sad expression rested on the thoughtful little face as he carried his pet to his mamma, saying:

"Poor kitty—bier—feet; mamma, fix it."—New Orleans Picayune.

Cigar Box Cedar Scarce.

There is said to be a scarcity of Cuban cedar for cigar boxes since the outbreak of the revolution in that country. A good substitute, and one often used, however, is cumber wood, which is dyed to the proper color.

PLENTY OF CONVENTIONS.

What a time St. Louis will have this year! The populists and bimetallists meet in convention there at the same time. The leaders expect there will be a fusion, but they will have difficulty in finding anything to fuse. The populist party is so near extinction that it would be folly to attempt to keep up the organization any longer. It has lost its hold in the states in which it was once dominant, and, of course, this means that death is near. A minor party must increase by geometrical progression in order to endure. When it stops growing the end for this is at hand. The populist party reached its maximum of strength in 1892, and its decline since then has been rapid and continuous. By passing into the silverite party its members can have a little influence in politics in some of the states. Standing alone, the populists in 1896 would probably drop below the prohibitionists in number of votes.

WHERE RECRUITS ARE FOUND.

Republicans are not worried by the talk of Warner, Hatch, et al. about a great move toward the silver party in the west and south.

The new party will draw far more heavily from the democrats than it will from the republicans. There are several reasons for this belief. Free silver sentiment, even in the west and south, is much more widely diffused among the democrats than it is among the republicans, except in the mining states, where of course, practically everybody is a 16 to 1 man. This year, more over, the hopelessness of democratic chances will send many western and southern democrats over to the third party, who would stick to their own ticket if there were any possibility that it could win. Free silver and democracy are about on a par as far as chances of success are concerned.

IS THE DEVIL DEAD?

"Is the Devil Dead?" Rev. Mr. Southworth will ask his congregation Sunday morning. The dictionary seems to think not. In the new Oxford English dictionary now being issued the devil occupies six pages, or eighteen columns, and the derivative words consume much additional space. He is a persuasive personality in all modern and many ancient languages, and has given numerous words and phrases, such as printer's devil, dating from 1683, and devility, which is an American improvement on the English devility. If the devil is dead the mark he has left on the languages endures after him.

A strong effort will be made to carry Wisconsin in Reed's favor. The thing for the people of the state to do is to decide who they want—Reed, McKinley, Allison or the dark horse—and name delegates accordingly. It isn't well to leave such things for the wire-pullers to decide.

The Nicaragua canal will cost billions but the profits will be proportionally large when it is completed. The annual profits of the Suez canal amount to $3,000,000 and the ship's using it save $10,000,000 a year after paying the tolls.

Nobody familiar with the bicycle trade predicts anything less for this year than a doubling of last year's business. There were three bicycle agencies in Janesville last year and there will be ten this year so the Bazaar City is not likely to fall behind in the procession.

Never in its best days did the New York horse-show draw such crowds as the bicycle show is drawing. With bicycles in demand at $100 and horses dull at $3.75, the prospect for "man's best friend" would seem to be poor.

Joe Blackburn is trying to prevent the election of a senator by the present Kentucky legislature. His plan will not succeed for republicans are watching him.

FACTORY TO MOVE AWAY FROM TOWN

L. R. TREAT WILL SELL TO LA CROSSE MEN.

Negotiations have been in progress several days, and the deal is almost closed—Frank G. Stevens, of Chicago, represents the purchasers in the matter.

The Janesville Eagle Cigar Box and Label Company is likely to move its factory from this city to La Crosse. Negotiations have been in progress for some time in behalf of La Crosse parties represented by Frank G. Stevens of Chicago and H. Wiggenhorn of La Crosse. Mr. Stevens and Mr. Wiggenhorn are now in the city and when seen this morning stated that everything looked favorable and that there seemed to be no reason why the deal should not be closed.

The present proprietor, Leslie R. Treat, made the same statement, and said further that a meeting of the stockholders had been called for next Tuesday night. They will then meet some La Crosse business men and final arrangements will be made.

The Eagle Cigar Box and Label company is one of the city's established factories and although it has not been doing a large business within the last year, in busy times it employed on an average of thirty hands. Its removal from Janesville will be regretted.

TEAM BROKE THROUGH ICE

Two of the Ferris Horses Fall Into the River.

One of the Ferris Ice company's teams broke through the ice today and were dragged out by other teams when almost drowned.

All last night the ice cutters were at work fearing a thaw that would check the harvest. One of the houses is full and quick work is being done on the other.

STRICKEN DOWN BY PARALYSIS

Miss Allie May Williams Is In a Very Critical Condition

Miss Allie May Williams is lying at the point of death at her home, corner of South Bluff and Racine streets, stricken by paralysis.

The shock has affected her entire right side and Drs. Loomis and Palmer who were called upon have but little hope of her recovery.

Handsome Dental Parlors
The dental parlors of Dr. H. J. Wardlaw over the Bee Hive have been furnished and decorated in a very tasty manner and impress one upon entering the door with the idea of going to the home of some friend rather than the dread that always accompanies the mere thought of an interview with the dentist. The appliances are of late pattern and his offices are so arranged that patients can be cared for in the best possible manner.

CARS TO RUN AGAIN

ABOUT MARCH 15

OWNER BLABON WRITES TO W. R. PROUDFOOT.

No Date Set Positively, But the Promise Held Out That by the Middle of March the Tuneful Trolley Will Sing Its Song on Milwaukee Street Once More.

Street cars will run again, it is said, about the middle of March. W. R. Proudfoot got a letter from G. W. Blabon yesterday afternoon that makes this almost certain.

Mr. Proudfoot, when seen this morning, said that Mr. Blabon would not for the present state any exact date, but that the running of cars would be resumed some time about the middle of March.

"The road bed itself is in good condition" remarked Mr. Proudfoot. "Very little money is needed to put things in shape, with the exception of the cars themselves and those I think will have to have new springs which would make a wonderful improvement. The company has eighty tons of coal on hand and after this is used I understand that fuel will be brought from Illinois and will be bought from the mine direct."

Its Condition.

Considering the time of year, our stock of winter garments is very evenly balanced. Owing to the serious inroads in the quantity of garments, made by our actually cutting prices in half, our stock is far from as large as it was, but well balanced as regards sizes. From thirty-two to forty-six we show fairly liberal assortment in each size. Most of the jackets and coats we show are black, and in very desirable cloths, such as caterpillar, boucle, rough diagonal, kersey, etc. Every one now for half the former price. Splendid line for children. J. M. Bustwick & Sons.

The President's Chair.

The only vacant seat in the galleries when the house was called to order and the only one that was not occupied during the proceedings of the day is that which the rules of the house reserve for the president of the United States. On such occasions it is usually filled by members of the cabinet's families or visitors to the city to whom the president or Mrs. Cleveland send cards, but, although the rest of the galleries were jammed with people, this conspicuous seat was empty all day and afforded a topic of conversation.

WILL NOT SPLIT AMERICA.

Failure of Another Attempt to Introduce Landlordism.

From the Denver Field and Farm: Several years ago an Englishman named Lord Grant was impressed with the possibilities of the English tenancy system, and sought to apply it to western Nebraska and Kansas. His chief purchase was a tract of several thousand acres in Russell county in the latter state. He designed it for a magnificent estate, and spent tens of thousands of dollars on buildings and improvements. His tenants were duly located, and matters were running along about as he expected when crop failure came. A party of titled Englishmen came out and spent some time on the place.

They visited at the master's house, where there was a magnificent library, each book bound in heavy morocco, and all of the most classic authorities. They hunted the festive jack rabbit over the level prairies, raced horses, coursed away for miles in chase of the antelope, and altogether enjoyed the trip, but the tenants were not so well pleased. One day an English visitor was riding along on the prairie when he came to a piece of corn. Regardless of consequences he rode through it, breaking down the stalks in every direction. The farmer who had leased the land saw it and came up angry and threatening. "Get out of that field," he ordered.

The Englishman stuck his eyeglass in its place and calmly stared at the Kansan. This only enraged the man further. "Mon," he said at last, "don't you know your place? I'm Lord So-and-so." "I don't care if you are the queen, you've got to take a licking for breaking down my corn and being so insulting." He made a grab and pulled the titled horseman to the ground and gave him a thorough trouncing. He was arrested the next day, but got off with a light fine. Frontier juries look on such crimes leniently. The estate rapidly went to pieces when bad crop years came, and the scheme was given up. The fine library was sold by the lawyers, and some of the elegant books are yet seen in the libraries of towns of that vicinity treasured as works of art, as, indeed, they are.

Her Travels in the Cameroons.

Miss Kingsley, the English explorer, has returned in safety from her travels in the Cameroons, where she ascended mountains 10,000 feet high in search of fish. The working classes in West Africa are, however, greatly pained by the announcement that she is going out again. It appears that her fishing expeditions require the services of porters in regions where they are liable to be seized and promptly eaten at every stopping place, and where Miss Kingsley's eloquence is their only protection.

Miss Kingsley mentions cheerfully that in the Fangue country she did not come across a single burial place.

IN THIS WOMAN'S CASE.

Mrs. Campbell Wishes Her Letter Published so that the Truth May Be Known.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS]

Of the thousands of letters received from women all over the world by Mrs. Pinkham, not one is given to the public unless by the wish of the writer. Thus absolute confidence is established between Mrs.

Pinkham and her army of patients; and she freely solicits a letter from any woman, rich or poor, who is ill health or ailing.

In the case of Mary E. Campbell, of Albion, Noble Co., Ind., her suffering was so severe, her relief so suddenly realized, and her gratitude so great, that she wishes the circumstances published, in the hope that others may be benefited thereby. She says:

"My physician told me I had dropsy and falling of the womb. My stomach and bowels were so bloated I could not get a full breath. My face and hands were bloated badly. I had that dreadful bearing-down pain, backache, palpitation of the heart, and nervousness.

"One of my physicians told me I had something growing in my stomach; and the medicine that I took gave me relief only for a short time. I thought I must die. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it worked like a charm. After taking the first bottle I could walk across the street, now I am well. I advise all my friends to take it."

THE WEATHER AND DISEASE.Subject That Is Not Yet Sufficiently Understood.

A physician has called attention to the necessity of a wider range of systematic data on the relation between weather and disease. That the various atmospheric changes should have some effect on our bodies is easily understood, for we know that alteration in the surface temperature, a change in the blood pressure, or in the air pressure of the lungs may affect the nervous system, and all these changes may be brought about by some peculiarity in the natural phenomena which we call weather. In recent years the subject has attracted the attention of those most competent to deal with it, and lately a meteorological station has been attached to the laboratories of the public health department at Rome, where lectures are given to students on the application of meteorology to hygiene.

At present our knowledge of the way in which the weather acts upon the body is very limited. An attempt to trace the relation between weather and disease has recently been made in England by a fellow of the Royal Meteorological Society, by bringing together a number of statistics dealing with the phenomena of the weather and some well-known diseases, chiefly zymotic, presenting them by a graphic method in a systematic manner. It is suggested that doctors generally make contributions to the available data on this subject, which would be of extreme value. There are few people, too, who could not give instances of the influence which the weather has upon them, either mentally or physically. On some constitutions the seasons have a marked influence. With many the spring, with its bright days and clear air, is felt to be the time of the year when they get the most enjoyment out of life; while others, probably of a more sensitive temperament, experience the greatest sum of happiness and health when peaceful autumn wraps them in its serene atmosphere.

On the other hand, winter or summer, as the case may be, produces in other temperaments the greatest summation of healthy vitality. Certain changes in the weather, too, tend to increase or diminish the amount of energy that we put into our daily work, and in a certain large factory it is recognized that from 10 to 20 per cent less work is done on dull days and days of threatening storm. The whole subject is one which, pursued in proper scientific spirit, should be productive of useful results. Its investigation might, at all events, afford people the satisfaction of knowing exactly why their poor bodies are so much at the mercy of atmospheric variations.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

This is as fine a lot of Blankets as you ever saw together. Bought cheap, but not sold on account of the warm winter. We want to dispose of them and the prices will move them. They are the California and North Star Blankets, the finest in the land. We will offer them to you on Wednesday, way below value. We mean it and you know we NEVER fool about these matters. What we cut we cut deep. THE BLANKETS ARE GOING TO BE SOLD.

EXTENSIVE newspaper advertising is not necessary at this time, as goods at present prices bring enough customers to keep all of our salesmen busy. No better advertising medium than a pleased customer. Ours are all pleased.
